

Your students want virtual courses; will they take them from you?

The 21st century classroom often isn't a classroom at all. Online learning has enabled not only blended, but fully virtual learning environments as well. Effective online courses from Edmentum are the perfect way to provide a virtual learning option for your students.

Virtual learning options from Edmentum mean more opportunities for your students. And because we partner—not compete—with you, you'll retain your students because you can offer them the opportunity to pursue their passions and find academic success, all on their schedules.

The Edmentum difference:

- A virtual learning partner, not a competitor, to retain your students, and the funding that goes with them
- Robust and effective online courses that will keep your students engaged
- Virtual academy options with certified teachers specially trained in online instruction

Ideal for:

- Homebound or hospital-bound students who want to stay on track while away from the traditional classroom
- Students looking for a convenient, affordable, engaging, and fun way to attend summer school
- Districts looking to expand course offerings to stay competitive

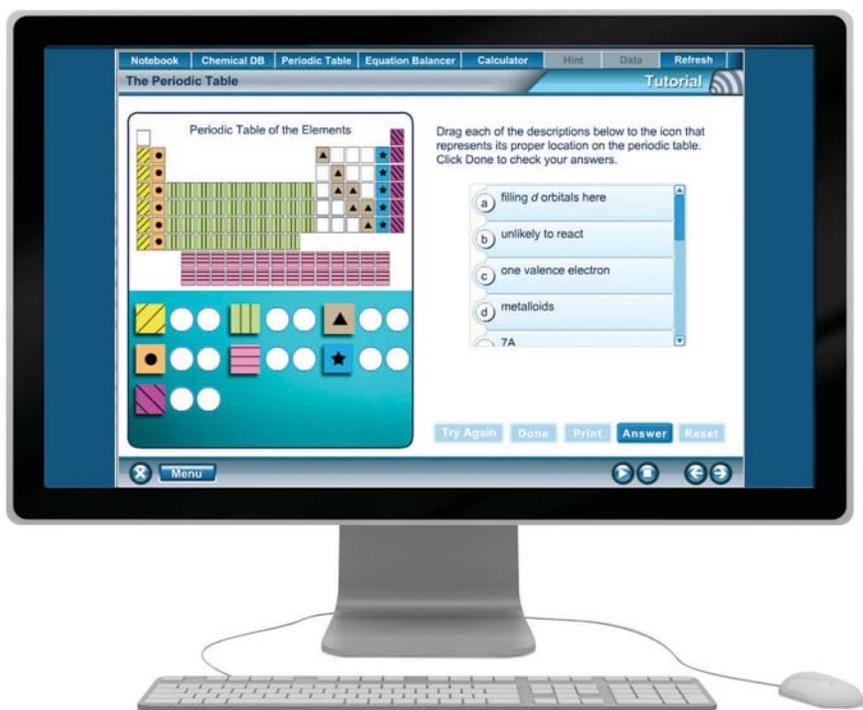

"The preK-12 online learning population is growing by a five year compound annual growth rate of 43 percent—and that rate is accelerating."

OUR PRODUCTS

EdOptions Academy combines engaging courses with certified online teachers specifically trained in online instruction. Now, you can provide the AP[®] courses you haven't had the resources for, or the Global Language courses such as French or Mandarin Chinese, that until now you haven't had the subject area expertise to provide. Whether it's effective credit recovery for your students who have fallen behind or engaging enrichment for your advanced students, this fully-accredited online school offers the classes your students need and want in a learning environment in which they'll thrive.

I am very pleased with your Virtual High School. You have given our students the opportunity to access courses that were vital to their academic success.
