

Ensure college & career readiness

Northstar Workforce Readiness provides affordable, easy-to-use, online practice and preparation programs. Students and teachers use these programs to prepare and study for college and career courses.

Why It Works

Northstar Workforce Readiness' post-secondary solutions provide:

- 24/7 anytime, anywhere access with immediate feedback
- Real-time reporting and grading to help inform instruction
- Resources for intervention, retention, and skills mastery
- Rigorous, high-quality content for practice, instruction, and review
- Full-length practice tests for certification exams*

Allied Health

Our Allied Health programs provide tools for insightful intervention combining academic assessment, engaging and research-based instructional resources, and advanced teaching practices to support each learner's individualized instruction. Each program is built from the content specifications or outline of each certification or licensing exam. Students master the content of the exam at their own pace and are shown the areas where they need the most practice. Full-length practice tests are available at any time.

GED® Test Review

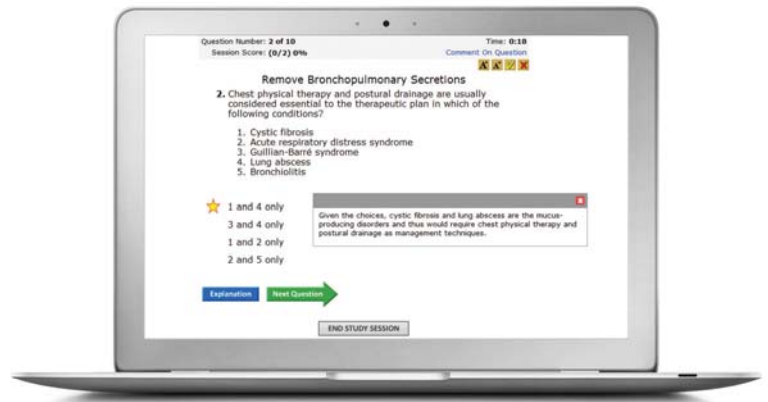

Northstar Workforce Readiness's online GED® Test Review is built from the GED® Content Specifications presented by ACE®. Students practice questions similar to those on the GED® Test and can take a full-length practice test for each of the five parts of the GED® Test at any time.

Developmental Math, Reading, and Writing

The Northstar Workforce Readiness Developmental math, reading, and writing programs help students prepare for college-level coursework. These programs are correlated to the skills tested on the COMPASS®, ASSET®, and ACCUPLACER® entrance exams.

Study Guides

Northstar Workforce Readiness study guides help students master the skills required in college math, science, and history. The programs are self-paced and allow students to practice and review questions at any time. The immediate feedback and question explanations helps student retain the content and decreases the need for reteaching.

PRAXIS™

Northstar Workforce Readiness provides online practice for the PRAXIS I® and PRAXIS II® tests. Users master the fundamental skills tested and are given immediate feedback showing areas in need of improvement. Full-length practice tests can be taken at any time.

The content is great and it's in the same technique that I instruct my course. I really feel this is an excellent tool for online review for board exams and certifications for all my Allied Health programs.
