

Allied Health CST Program Evaluation Tool

Three Essential Elements in Surgical Technician Certification Exam Preparation

You know what your learners need to succeed. But being able to engage learners and fulfill those needs on limited budgets and resources can be difficult. This tool is designed to help you evaluate each area of your CST preparation program:

Instruction

- o Goal: To make sure your students are focusing on the 94 exam objectives in the surgical technician certification exam.
 - o How are you obtaining this goal?

Suggested Solution:

Use content and materials that have been built from the exam objectives. View a full Certified Surgical Technician alignment document here.

Practice

- o Goal: To make sure that learners master and retain all knowledge necessary to succeed on the exam.
 - o How are you obtaining this goal?

Suggested Solution:

Use tools and resources that will keep the student engaged and allow them the flexibility to spend time focused on their areas of need.

Feedback and Reporting

- o Goal: To ensure learners and instructors have the ability to see knowledge gaps and correctly identify when intervention is needed before the exam.
 - o How are you obtaining this goal?

Suggested Solution:

Use technology and online tools to get immediate feedback and real-time reports that allow you to identify a learner's areas of need.

The Northstar Workforce Readiness Difference

Exam preparation and intervention programs are vital to helping learners achieve their college and career goals. That is why we pride ourselves in delivering solutions that work with institutions to increase learner achievement and success.

The Northstar difference:

- 24/7 anytime, anywhere access with immediate feedback for learners
- Real-time reporting and grading to help inform instruction
- Resources for intervention, retention, and skills mastery
- Rigorous, high-quality content for practice, instruction, and review
- Content that is fully customizable

Our Allied Health programs provide tools for insightful intervention combining academic assessment, engaging and research-based instructional resources, and advanced teaching practices to support each learner's individualized instruction. Each program is built from the content specifications or outline of each certification or licensing exam. Students master the content of the exam at their own pace and are shown the areas where they need the most practice. Full-length practice tests are available at any time.
