

BASE Education for Intervention Module Alignment

Meet Tier 2 and Tier 3 Student Needs with BASE Education

Intervention modules are typically delivered in individual or smaller group settings for more targeted support of a struggling student. These students may be dealing with anger, anxiety, substance use and misuse, low academic performance, truancy, and other tier 2 and tier 3 struggles.

Modules can be targeted by theme to cover both the direct issue where support is needed and the foundational skills to support a student’s success in navigating challenging behavior. BASE Education intervention pathways align nicely with MTSS and PBIS.

Modules are designed for flexible application and may be accessed during in-school suspension, dean and counseling time, pull-out small groups, or in after school programs designed for intervention. Each school is unique in the ways they create a support structure for Intervention, and BASE flexibility allows for seamless integration.

Sample Pathways for Support and Intervention

All students at a tier 2 and tier 3 level can benefit from a basic supportive pathway to better understanding themselves and their behaviors. These modules set a foundation for the skills students need to support identity, agency and belonging.
