

Edmentum Educator Network

Connecting Educators, Creating Community

Education is a demanding career—and sometimes it can be lonely. The Edmentum Educator Network is an educator-led, educator-driven community we've designed to help outstanding teachers and administrators make those critical connections, share their ideas, tackle their challenges, and grow as professionals.

What the Educator Network Offers

It's our goal to make the Edmentum Educator Network accessible to every educator, no matter their role, location, or the amount of time they can commit.

- Private Facebook group for networking and discussion
- Bi-annual Educator Summit conference in Dallas
- In-person networking opportunities with members across the country
- Monthly newsletter including Member Spotlights
- Working sessions with Edmentum's curriculum team

"When you bring good people with passion and vision together, positive reactions are a natural response."

-Johnathan Williams, Middle School Teacher and Educator Network Member
